

Washington State American Viticultural Areas

Source: Washington Wine Commission

Washington state has nine American Viticultural Areas (AVAs) as recognized and defined by the U.S. Treasury Department, BATF. An AVA has unique climate, soil and physical features, which distinguish it from surrounding areas.

- | | | | | | | | | |
|-----------------|--------------|---------------|--------------------|--------------------|-------------------|----------------|---------------|-------------|
| Columbia Valley | Red Mountain | Yakima Valley | Walla Walla Valley | Horse Heaven Hills | Rattlesnake Hills | Columbia Gorge | Wahluke Slope | Puget Sound |
|-----------------|--------------|---------------|--------------------|--------------------|-------------------|----------------|---------------|-------------|